SERVING MICHIGAN'S COACHES

May 1993

Leadership Conference

By Jack Crabtree,

Substance Abuse Committee Co-Chair, Saline High School

The MHSFCA Leadership conference has shifted gears. Experiences from the conference will allow the participants to perform more effectively and positively in their leadership roles.

Conference leaders will evaluate their leadership skills; they will explore decision making and goal setting; look at the value of communication as a leader; have an exposure to means of establishing values and ethical conduct; and ways to deal with self-esteem, peer pressure and others' expectations.

The MHSFCA believes our future lies in the hands of our youth, and the more positive experience we can contribute to their lives, the more positive and constructive all our futures will be.

NEW FORMAT

"On March 20th we had our Leadership Conference meeting at Saline High School with 19 people in attendance," said Executive Director of the MHSFCA, Dr. Don Lessner. "We spent considerable time revamping the Leadership Conference, changing it from a substance abuse format to a leadership format. The new format is what we should have had from the start. Loren Willey and Jack Crabtree will co-chair the committee."

Head and Neck Injuries in Football

This statement will be read at Football Rules Meetings this fall.

It is a familiar, but welcome story to report that once again in 1992 Michigan high school football was spared of death and catastrophic injury. In fact, there was just one death recorded as a direct result of high school football last year while over 1,500,000 students participated as players in our nation's schools. Statistics are not yet complete on catastrophic injuries, but nine football players died nationally from causes not directly attributable to football.

Statistics on football deaths have been compiled since 1931 and reached a high of 26 from direct causes in 1968. Rule changes for the 1976 season eliminated the head as a primary and initial contact area for blocking and tackling and has been responsible for the direct decrease in deaths since that time. Since 1960 most of the direct fatalities have been caused by head and neck injuries.

You attendance at this year's rules meeting and your membership in the coaches association are indications of your desire to make football a game that is safe for all of our students.

Several suggestions for reducing head and neck injuries include:

1. Athletes must be given proper conditioning exercises which will strengthen their necks and enable them to hold their heads firmly erect when making contact.
2. Coaches should drill players to properly execute fundamental skills, especially blocking and tackling. Contact should always be made with the head up and never with the top of the head/helmet. Initial contact should never be made with the head/helmet.
3. Rules prohibiting spearing should be enforced in practice and in games. Players should be taught to respect the helmet as a protective device, not to be used as a weapon.
4. Take special care to see that player's equipment is properly fitted, especially the helmet.

5. When a player has experienced head trauma, he should receive immediate medical attention and not be allowed to return to practice or game without permission from the proper medical authorities.
6. Coaches should conduct pre-season meetings with players and parents to explain the risk associated with playing football.

Coaches and officials have key roles in making football safe.

As members of the Michigan High School Football Coaches Association we must enthusiastically join the MHSAA in pursuit of making the game free from serious injury.

Your Trick Plays Solicited

Would you like to have yourself and your school represented in a future football text?

Bob Severs, Assistant Head Coach at LaPorte, Indiana High School is collaborating with another high school coach from Houston to put together a book with as many trick plays as they can gather from around the country. "We felt that on occasion, every coach would like to pull a play out of his hat in a special situation. A book with many of them at hand could be just where to pull it from."

Coach Severs said that they had already enlisted the help of several football coaches associations in their endeavor including: Ohio, Pennsylvania, Texas, Florida, Virginia, California, Indiana and Louisiana.

They are looking for, "trick plays on offense, defense, special teams, whatever. We have just started our gathering of 'gadget plays' and if we use your play we will credit you and your school/state.

Send your play(s), description, name, school and state to:

Exploring New Facility

Mr. Roberts said, "[We] may find it possible to provide space for two kinds of services... for an association's Hall of Fame and association management."

Executive Director of the Michigan High School Athletic Association, John E. Roberts, in a communication with the presidents of the various high school coaching associations in Michigan, queried those leaders about their interest in being a part of, "an office complex that will increase the prestige and/or stability of some groups and foster cooperation between all which locate in the complex." Part of the initial discussion is an assessment of the organizations' current and projected space needs.

Mr. Roberts said, "as the MHSAA considers its future space needs, it may find it possible to provide space for two kinds of services which might benefit one or more of the high school coaches organizations for Michigan: Space for an association's Hall of Fame and association management."

"Presently, the MHSAA has neither the staff nor space to perform these functions for state coaches associations." Mr. Roberts added, "but that could change if the educational associations offices complex ever becomes a reality."

"The vision of those now considering the office complex is to promote closer working relationships which will promote collaboration and synergy to improve education in Michigan. If such were occurring with respect to coaches associations within the MHSAA portion of the complex, the spirit of the vision would extend beyond even what the planners have had in mind." He said.

MHSFCA 1972-1992

*By Dave Woodcock, President
Jenison High School*

Thanks to the leadership of the officers and directors, past and present, the Michigan High School Football Coaches Association is in excellent condition. Since its inception, the MHSFCA has been a model for other coaches associations on how to have input in the direction that the sport they were coaching took.

The organization's purpose has always been to help and promote the sport, the coaches and the young men that they coached. To those ends our promotions have always been focused. The main event of the association for the membership is the annual clinic in Battle Creek which had over 1,400 members in attendance in January 1993. One of the most prestigious events for the association and for the membership is induction into the Hall of Fame. The induction ceremonies in April of this year raised the number of Hall of Famers to over 250.

Most of the efforts of the organization are directed toward the young men who participate in football. The membership worked very hard to initiate the state playoffs and later to expand them so that more young men could participate. The playoffs now include 128 teams. The MHSFCA offers $6,000 in scholarships so that young people, both male and female, associated with high school football may further their education. In addition, 88 young men are offered an opportunity to play in the All Star Game in Spartan Stadium in August. In conjunction with the All Star Football Game, we provide an opportunity for approximately 200 high school marching band participants to come to MSU and perform. Also in conjunction with the All Star Game our organization has taken an important step in helping to develop responsible leadership in our high schools by offering a Leadership Conference to students throughout the state. (See article this Newsletter).

The Association also proudly honors members of our organization with many awards to recognize their contributions and achievements in football. First and foremost is the prestigious

Purpose

The organization's purpose has always been to help and promote the sport, the coaches and the young men that they coached. To those ends our promotions have always been focused.

Jim Crowley Award. We also recognize head coaches in each of the eight class divisions with Coach of the Year Awards and Regional Coach of the Year Awards; assistant coaches with Varsity Assistant, Junior Varsity Assistant, Freshman and Junior High Coach of the Year Awards.

Also annually recognized with our MHSFCA Honorary Membership Awards, are those people who contribute their time in various ways (including, but not limited to: photographers, journalists, doctors and statisticians) to football programs across the state.

Our activities are conceived and organized by our Association's governing body. The MHSFCA is run by its officers a: President, 1st Vice-President, 2nd Vice-President and Executive Director; thirty-two Regional Directors; committee chairmen; Past Presidents; and Allied Members. These men perform the everyday work that makes the organization successful. Its our well placed hope that the current group of men will continue the success that our previous leadership has engineered.

As President, I have two major goals. The first is to continue immediate Past President, Bob Knight's drive to involve more coaches in the organization... we need all of the help you are willing to give. The other pressing goal is to solve the dilemma of where our Hall of Fame will reside. We need a permanent place to house and display the historical documents of our Association (see article this Newsletter).

With your help and involvement, we will keep this organization vibrant.

Location Change had no Effect on the Banquet's Success...

Over 600 Honor 27 Inductees at -

1993 MHSFCA Hall of Fame Banquet

By Tom Fagan, Hall of Fame Chair

The 1993 Hall of Fame Banquet was held at the Michigan Track and Tennis Building instead of the usual site at Crisler Arena. The location change had no effect on the banquet's success, as over 600 people from all over the state of Michigan gathered to honor 27 inductees. Michigan's highly successful head football coach, Gary Moehler, welcomed the huge crowd and introduced the featured speaker, Eastern Michigan's Jim Harkema. Coach Harkema praised and recognized the inductees for their achievements and for making a major difference in their communities. His well prepared presentation, which centered on perception and reality, was thoughtful, entertaining and presented some interesting insights to the game of football.

The inductees amused and entertained the audience and their families with brief, but insightful comments. As part of the introduction the inductees related their biggest thrill, what coaching has meant to them and why they coach.

Many of the inductees stated that being admitted to the Michigan High School Football Coaches Hall of Fame was their biggest thrill and credited their families and fellow coaches for their success.

Bob Dozier's and Jack Schugars' remarks epitomized the feelings of the rest of the inductees. According to Bob Dozier, "Football coaching has given me the opportunity to give something back to the community in the form of assisting young men and young women to reach their maximum academic, athletic and social potential. Coaching has provided the opportunity for me to learn so much from so many people and to share the camaraderie of the best group of professionals on the face of the earth, coaches."

Coach Jack Schugars stated, "I coach because in reality coaches never lose - because for a coach the final score doesn't read so many points for my team and so many points for theirs. Instead it reads so many men out of so many boys. And this is the score that I, as a coach, read to myself and find the greatest joy."

The location of the banquet may have changed, but the character of the inductees and the quality of the banquet continue to earn this event the title of, "Mother of All Banquets."

Top: Chair, Tom Fagan, and the Hall of Fame Committee have taken the Hall of Fame induction from a walk past the podium at the University of Michigan's spring clinic, to a truly, distinguished ceremony that we have enjoyed for the past eleven years.

MHSFCA President, Dave Woodcock, presents Mr. Leo Folsom, Walled Lake Schools with the plaque commemorating his 1993 induction into the MHSFCA Hall of Fame.

Why Coach

Bob Dozier

"Football coaching has given me the opportunity to give something back to the community in the form of assisting young men and young women to reach their maximum academic, athletic and social potential."

Jack Schugars

Michigan High School Football Hall of Fame

The 1993 Hall of Fame Banquet was held at the Michigan Track and Tennis Building instead of the usual site at Crisler Arena.

Left: A last minute move of the Hall of Fame Banquet from Crisler Arena to the Track and Tennis Building on the University of Michigan's campus was necessitated by the University's preempting Crisler for student viewing of the Semi-Final Game of the NCAA Basketball Tournament. The track and tennis building served the needs of the banquet well, providing ample room for the inductees, their families and friends.

Above: Raffle tickets for some impressive door prizes, including tickets to both University of Michigan and Michigan State University football games were sold by a crew of MHSFCA Board of Directors including Saline High School's Jack Crabtree, new Co-Chair of the Substance Abuse Committee.

Left: Always in good spirits, Jeff Stewart (MHSFCA Region 13 Director, Big Rapids) and his wife Anne made the trip to Ann Arbor and the Hall of Fame Banquet as part of the contingent in honor of inductee, Jack Schugars (Muskegon Oakridge).

Head and Neck Injuries in Football

This statement will be read at Football Rules Meetings this fall.

It is a familiar, but welcome story to report that once again in 1992 Michigan high school football was spared of death and catastrophic injury. In fact, there was just one death recorded as a direct result of high school football last year while over 1,500,000 students participated as players in our nation's schools. Statistics are not yet complete on catastrophic injuries, but nine football players died nationally from causes not directly attributable to football.

Statistics on football deaths have been compiled since 1931 and reached a high of 26 from direct causes in 1968. Rule changes for the 1976 season eliminated the head as a primary and initial contact area for blocking and tackling and has been responsible for the direct decrease in deaths since that time. Since 1960 most of the direct fatalities have been caused by head and neck injuries.

You attendance at this year's rules meeting and your membership in the coaches association are indications of your desire to make football a game that is safe for all of our students.

Several suggestions for reducing head and neck injuries include:

1. Athletes must be given proper conditioning exercises which will strengthen their necks and enable them to hold their heads firmly erect when making contact.
2. Coaches should drill players to properly execute fundamental skills, especially blocking and tackling. Contact should always be made with the head up and never with the top of the head/helmet. Initial contact should never be made with the head/helmet.
3. Rules prohibiting spearing should be enforced in practice and in games. Players should be taught to respect the helmet as a protective device, not to be used as a weapon.
4. Take special care to see that player's equipment is properly fitted, especially the helmet.

5. When a player has experienced head trauma, he should receive immediate medical attention and not be allowed to return to practice or game without permission from the proper medical authorities.
6. Coaches should conduct pre-season meetings with players and parents to explain the risk associated with playing football.

Coaches and officials have key roles in making football safe.

As members of the Michigan High School Football Coaches Association we must enthusiastically join the MHSAA in pursuit of making the game free from serious injury.
